SO. ILL., INC. PLANS PUBLIC MEETING HERE

Will Discuss Chances of Getting Defense Industry Here

Prominent Figures Scheduled to Appear

A significant public meeting featuring a report on the prospects of establishing a defense industry in southern Illinois is being arranged by Southern Illinois, Incorporated, to be held in Shryock Auditorium next Tuesday.

Such prominent figures as Colonel Henry A. Kellogg, state planning engineer; Kent E. Keller, former congressman; and Charles E. Miner, state W. P. A. administrator, will participate in the program. Keller has served as Washington representative for Southern Illinois, Inc., in its fight to obtain defense industry for this region, and he will report on the immediate possibilities of industrial employment in southern Illinois. Kellogg and Miner will take part in a discussion on coordinating state and Federal agencies to long range industrial planning.

The program will open at 2:00 p. m. with a business session. Immediately following, William McAdams, athletic director at S. I. N. U., and chairman of the Recreation Committee of Southern Illinois, Inc., will make a report on the work of his committee.

At 3:00 p. m., Dr. H. C. Brainerd, president of the Southern Illinois Association of S. I. N. U. economic development, will discuss the report of the industrial committee of which Dr. Brainerd is chairman.

There will also be a discussion of the Federal Food Stamp plan, which is of particular interest to this area because it gives relief clients increased buying power and also stimulates retail business. Eugene A. Comie, president of Southern Illinois Municipal League and representative of Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, will have charge of this meeting.

The evening session, beginning at 7:30, will be opened with a report of the education committee by President Roscoe Pulkam, chairman. The remainder of the evening session will be concerned with government agencies in industrial planning. This will be opened with a talk on the "Relation of WPA to National Defense and Economic Recovery." Kohler will discuss N.Y.A. in the same manner, and Kellogg will close the meeting with a talk on "Coordination of Government Agencies in Long Term Industrial Planning Schedule."

O. W. Iyeria, president of Southern Illinois, Inc., in announcing plans for the conference, said: "This meeting is the best way we could find to report our progress to the people of southern Illinois and to show everybody that there is much in store for this region if we all work together."

"All the activity of the various groups and individuals seeking economic recovery for this region in the industrial expansion of the national defense program," Iyeria continued, "will be confident, eventually culminate in success, and the quickest ways of assuring that success will be discussed at the meeting."

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS WELFARE ASSOCIATION PUBLISHES NEWSPAPER

The Southern Illinois Welfare Association and social workers of this area will hold a one-day spring conference on the campus Saturday, April 6. The conference will emphasize two problems: relationship of the township supervisor to social work, and the need of more effective service in Southern Illinois. The conference will start at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in Shryock Auditorium.

ANTONITA SANCHEZ, SPANISH DANCER, HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Antonita Sanchez, Spanish dancer, will present a series of dances next Thursday at 7:30 in the Allen Auditorium. Miss Sanchez came to this country from Malaga, Spain, about a month ago.

Miss Sanchez's appearance on the campus is being sponsored by Dr. J. English.

Corry Davis Spaulds, class. Miss Sanchez's husband, Frank Waldron, is a sailor in the United States navy. He was stationed on one of the "Vessels" assigned to the Pacific Coast during the war, and he got out of Spain during the civil war in that country. It was there that he met Miss Sanchez and they were married. She is now a resident of Jackson County.

Miss Sanchez speaks very little English.

DRAMA NEXT FRIDAY DRAWS PARALLEL TO WORLD CRISIS

The Little Theatre production of "Orion Welles" version of Julius Caesar will be presented one week from tonight at 8 o'clock in Shryock Auditorium. Students and faculty members who hold activity entertainment tickets will be admitted without additional charge.

According to Miss Dorothy Magnus, director of Little Theatre, that group is making a definite effort to produce Julius Caesar in a fashion which will be a memorable experience for students, faculty, and off-campus patrons who make up the S. I. N. U. theatre audience.

Discussing the play, Miss Magnus pointed out that there is an unusual comparison between the social and political situation in Rome at the time of Caesar's assassination and the present world crisis, especially in countries dominated by dictators. If there is anything to the value of the "historical" report, this play is a startling example of that nature.

The fact that Julius Caesar is being produced in modern dress on a formalized night set without any visible reference to time or locale makes the comparison between Caesar's day and our own. The complete conception of the Little Theatre production is centered on the effort to emphasize the fundamental psychology upon which the Shakespearean tragedy of Julius Caesar is based. With this conception, the cast and staff are endeavoring to give Southern Illinois theatre patrons an opportunity to see for themselves why William Shakespeare is the greatest dramatist who ever lived.

A complete list of members of the cast is given below:

1. Flavius; 2. Marcellus; 3. Brutus; 4. Cassius; 5. Antony; 6. Brutus; 7. Caesar; 8. Portia; 9. Calpurnia; 10. Decius; 11. Trebonius; 12. Metellus; 13. Cinna; 14. Ligarius; 15. Titinius; 16. Chemeka Pledges Wear Acid Around Necks

Chemeka, the honorary chemistry society, is now having pledge week. Each of the pledges, Glenn Terry, H. L. Peters, Leslie Reed, Maurice Griffin, Sidney Ayers, Claude Hudson, Harry Davis and Eugene Brown, must wear a large tube of hydrochloric acid on a string around their necks all week. The final initiation and banquet will be held at 4 o'clock this Friday. Only students majoring in chemistry and having a four-point average or more can become pledges.

Election of the King and Queen of the Sophomore Hop will take place next Tuesday in the foyer of Shryock Auditorium. The ballot boxes will be open from immediately after assembly exercises until 3 o'clock. Activity tickets will be required in order for one to vote. All sophomores please vote.

SOPHOMORES WILL CHOOSE KING-QUEEN

Royalty To Remain Unknown Till February 22

Bernie Vance And Boys Will Furnish Music

The election of the King and Queen of the Sophomore Hop will take place next Tuesday in the foyer of the auditorium. In the nominations last Tuesday the following candidates were put up for Queen: Peggy Henry, Bonnie Newland, and Rosemary O'Neil; and for King: Russell "Duke" Elliott, Joseph Daugherty, and Louis Macchi.

The Queen selected will be crowned at the Hop by Ralph Bottanum, president of the sophomore class, at 10:45. She herself will then crown her escort. The two other candidates for Queen will act as attendants. The identity of the royalty will be kept a secret until the night of the Hop.

Bernie Vance and his orchestra will play at the dance. The eleven-piece band has gained radio popularity in Tennessee, Missouri, and Illinois, and has played over WFL in St. Louis and WDWS in Chattanooga. It has been introduced on the air by the slogan "Let's Dance to Bernie Vance," and "Pressing Street Swing Styled by Bernie Vance."

The band is known for its clean-cut and elegant arrangements. Its brass section features staccato triple-toned effects, while the sax section is noted for its smoothness and its flowing tones. Vance is a rather well-known sax player. An interesting feature of the band is the original bounce tempo which has been introduced by the rhythm section.

Vance and his orchestra is a highly specialized entertainment unit, with Bob Stebbins, a tenor who has sung with several big name bands, as vocalist. Other specialties of the band include the three acts (a vocal trio), and Bernie Vance and his orchestra.

Decorations for the dance are built around a colonial theme, in keeping with Washington's birthday which falls on the same date as the Hop. Jennell Hamilton of the Decorations committee mentioned as one feature of the decorations is that the orchestra stand is being built to resemble the veranda of Mount Vernon, Washington's home.

The "Undergraduate Homecoming" as it was called by Bottanum, is to be held February 22 in the Allen Gymnasium. Tickets are now on sale at forty-four cents each. The dance will be from nine to twelve o'clock.

On the night preceding the Hop, the Little Theatre is to present "Julius Caesar."

Next year's king and queen of the sophomore Hop were Robert Hunter and Orthalie Hubbard.

NOTICE ON REGISTRATION

Advance registration for freshmen and sophomores will begin on Monday, February 17, and continue through Friday, February 22. Sophomores will report to the advisers to whom they have been assigned as indicated on the list enclosed with this notice. Freshmen will report to the advisers assigned to them. Please note also the hours of the room numbers of advisers.

Class cards for all 100 and 200 students are to be given out at the time of advance registration, on the first floor of the Old Science building beginning Tuesday, February 18, at 1 o'clock, and every day thereafter from 7:30 until 4:00 through Friday, February 22.

When a freshman has acquired its quarter hour of credit, it should get from its adviser its grade record card, and report with it to Mr. Knapstad.

Please note that there is no advance registration during final examination week and no class cards will be given out during final examination week.

TWO-PIANO ARTISTS

MALCOLM-GODDEN, PIANO ARTISTS HERE TONIGHT AT 8 IN SHRYOCK AUDITORIUM

Reginald Godden and Scott Malcolm, distinguished two-piano recitalists, who will appear in Shryock Auditorium tonight at 8:00 o'clock, under the auspices of the Cooperative Concert series, were born within a year of each other but 3,000 miles apart—the former in "Tulbridge West" Canada, the latter in Toronto, Canada. For the first twenty-three years of their respective lives the two men followed separate paths.

Scott Malcolm commenced studying the piano when he was five years old. He continued his music along with his general schooling until he was sixteen, then decided to turn his living elsewhere until the piano showed a way of profit. Joining the staff of a leading Canadian financial publication, he was sent to Calgary to open a branch office and to report on the oil development in that vicinity. Eventually the market collapse brought him back to the Toronto office. In the meantime he had met Reginald Godden and all his spare time was spent building up a two-piano literature.

Godden began piano at fourteen. When Reginald Godden was eleven months old he was brought from England to Canada to the little town of Barrie, some fifty miles north of Toronto. As a child, sports interested him more than music and it was not until he was fourteen that he started to study the piano. At fifteen he added to this the study of the organ, working under Dr. Healey Wilson. His first love proved most lasting, however, and he eventually resumed his piano studies seriously under Ernest Seitz. It was when Malcolm and Godden were pupils of Seitz that they met. At first they played duets for diversion. Later they found their new interest so engrossing and their individual abilities so fitted for this combined effort that they commenced practicing with a joint career as a goal. They gave their first two-piano recital at the Toronto Conservatory Concert Hall. Since then they toured widely in the United States and Canada; New York has heard them several times in recital in Town Hall; and they prefaced a tour of Great Britain with their overseas debut in Westminster Hall, London.

Team Made Own Transcriptions. When Malcolm and Godden commenced to do two-piano work, they purchased as much two-piano music as they could find, but discovered that the existing repertoire was pitifully small. Accordingly they set to work and made transcriptions of many works, particularly some of the Bach organ works. These transcriptions are a feature on every program they give and have invariably received excellent commendation.

The complete program which will be given by the two-piano recitalists is as follows:

- Rondo from Sonata in D for Two Pianos.....Mozart
- Minute a l'antique.....Sebeok
- Sicily May Safely Grace.....Bach
- Toccata and Fugue in D minor.....Bach
- III.....Saint-Saens
- Reverie.....Arensky
- Sentimentale.....Infante
- Scherzo.....Saint-Saens
- Sleep and Goat Walkin' to Pasture.....Gulon
- Lullaby.....Brahms
- Ritral Fire Dance.....De Falla

STAGE AROUND SKINNER IS ALIVE WITH CHARACTERS

In the strict sense, Cornelia Olin Skinner, who comes to the Shryock Auditorium on February 24 in a program of her original modern monologues, is a solo artist. Yet, her audiences have found, she does not walk alone in her unique performances. When she speaks, the stage about her becomes alive with a legion of characters of her imagination. By the magic of her art, she conjures up a whole room full of arresting types.

When Miss Skinner makes her appearance in her solo sketches, she works without scenery, employing only dark heavy velvet drapes. But her settings are more real than painted canvas. She can make her audience see with her the sunlit porch of a New England resort hotel, Michelangelo's lofty frescoes in the Sistine Chapel, or a tight smelly telephone booth in Times Square, in Edna H. Wise, her solo drama in eleven scenes running as long as a three-act play, Miss Skinner used scenery for the first time. In the course of a few seasons of touring with her modern monologues, Miss Skinner has found herself in such demand that her regular tour took her across the continent and to London, where she played four triumphant engagements. She has appeared on the stage in every state in the Union except New Mexico, Arizona, and Idaho, and she appears in the latter two on the current tour.

In addition to a full line on the stage, Miss Skinner draws ready expression in two other channels. Her voice has been a high spot in a number of important radio programs during the past several seasons and her amusing commentaries on certain vagaries of daily life appear frequently in "The New Yorker" and other leading magazines. A collection of them published under the title of "Excuse It Please!" has gone into fourteen printings. Her latest book is titled "Others and Jitters."

422 REGISTER FOR MATH. DAY TOMORROW

Sponsored By So. Ill. Council of Math. Teachers

Olson Will Speak on "Mathematics in Aviation"

Four hundred and forty-two students of Southern Illinois high schools have registered for the third annual Mathematics Field Day to be held on the campus tomorrow, sponsored by the Southern Illinois Council of Mathematics Teachers. The theme of the conference is MATHEMATICS IN USE.

Highlighting the morning general session will be an illustrated lecture, "Mathematics in Aviation," by Mr. Delmar W. Olson on the industrial arts department.

Three hundred and fifty-five students have indicated they will take the mathematics tests to be given again this year. They include first year algebra, plane geometry, advanced algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry. Awards will be given to the upper 15 percent of students in each group.

Included in his usual display of mathematics projects will be an exhibit prepared by Miss Alberta Gibbons of the University High school faculty. This exhibit was sent to the national mathematics meeting in Louisiana during the Christmas holidays, where it received very favorable mention. Miss Clara Barlow of Shawnee High school and Mr. W. Willis of Cairo in charge of the exhibition of the high school projects on display in the Old Science building.

Speakers on the afternoon program will be Robert W. English of the college industrial arts department, R. C. Cassell of the agriculture department, and Miss Joseph E. Watson of the physics department. Student speakers will include William Karcher, Mary McMillan, Max Hill, and James Chandler.

During the day a mimeographed newspaper will be published giving an account of the highlights of the conference.

The household arts department will serve box lunches at noon on the first floor of the Main building.

The complete program is as follows:

REYNOLDS AND CALLISS NAMED TO COUNCIL

Wesley Reynolds and Bob Calliss, both from Highwood Hall, were elected last Tuesday to fill vacancies on the Student Council caused by resignations of Walter Heins and the Schaffer.

Reynolds will replace Heins as senior representative and Calliss will replace Schaffer as junior class member on the Council.

Both Heins and Schaffer resigned recently to accept jobs off campus. Heins is teaching in the high school at Reynolds and Schaffer is in the War Department at Washington, D. C.

Reynolds recently carried on a hot dispute with the Student Council over withholding a referendum from the student body. Reynolds believed the Council had acted illegally. Although the matter has apparently been dropped for the present by the Student Council, there are rumors in some quarters that Reynolds, after being formally seated on the Council, will reopen the dispute. Reynolds is a member of the debate team and an officer in a long list of organizations as well as an assistant in the registrar's office.

Calliss, who also participated to some extent in the recent Council controversy, is now assistant to the Dean of Men.

Along with Reynolds, Calliss will be installed next Monday at the regular Council meeting.

A. A. U. W. WILL OFFER $300 GRADUATE LOAN THIS YEAR

At the February meeting of the American Association of University Women it was announced that a Carbondale branch of the A. A. U. W. will offer a $300 graduate loan this year. The loan will be granted to a senior woman of S. I. N. U. who shows promise as a student and whose college record is excellent. Qualifications include excellent scholastic ability, a good personality, and intellectual interests. Miss Julia Minette Barber, member of the English department and director of Anthony Hall, is chairman of the loan committee for the local fellowship committee. Last week ten research fellowships, totaling more than $15,000, were awarded to nine women who are residents of the United States and one to a Latin-American candidate. Miss Lucy K. Woody, Dean of Women and head of the household arts department, is chairman of the local fellowship committee.

Basketball Tourney

In just around the corner, three teams have been chosen in the freshmen practice and the teams have begun playing as such. Techniques have been smoothed out, plays planned, and execution exemplified. However, after seeing the game between the Junior-Senior and Sophomores Tuesday evening our freshmen are going around even more wide-eyed than ever. They are becoming more determined than ever to really learn to play and maybe some day beat those upper classmen.

At W. A. A.

Tuesday a committee was chosen to study new members for the coming term. Those interested in any type of sports at all should try their best to come out to our meetings. There is a greater feeling of unity and cooperation when one is affiliated with some organization. And what more could one ask of an organization than a large group of young people, opportunity for sports activity, and plenty of social gatherings as well. Then, too, with the A. F. C. W. convention meeting here at Southern this spring, we promise plenty of activity. Do try to come out.

FRENCH STUDENTS WILL PRESENT PLAY NEXT WEDNESDAY

The French "phonetic class" will present a play, "L'Amour est Tel Une Paix", next Wednesday in the Little Theater at 4:00. The play, a farce, in one act, directed by Dr. Vera Peacock, has the following cast of characters:

Eugene, the interpreter, Jack Jordan, a clerk in a banking house of Saint James street in London, Betty, Ellen Maynard; Julia Ciccardi, Willabelle Wilson; Un Insuperable, Ellen Howard; Un Garcon, Charles Moore; Betty Henson, Dorothy Vaupe; La Caliste, Tophelia Lorkian.
Julien, a clerk in a banking house of Saint James street in London, goes with Betty, an English girl. They go to the Hotel De Cologne in Paris, the setting of the play. Hogan immediately pursues the couple, but a breakup ensues because he can't speak the language. Then Betty, the interpreter, is a substitute for the hotel's regular interpreter, but has taken his job under false pretenses as she doesn't know any French. Julien who speaks both English and English, straightens matters out. Hogan then reveals his objections to the marriage when he finds out that Julien is to be taken into his company as a partner, and the play ends happily with "papa's" blessings on the happy couple.
This will be the regular February play of the French club, but will be open to all students.

Course in Boy Scout Leadership Offered

A new course in Boy Scout Leadership Training will be given the spring term. This course is designed to meet the needs of young men who will be going into a teaching position where troop leaders and scoutmasters are given first choice. The course will be conducted by various members on the campus and some of the officers of the Egyptian Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The training will be given in connection with the Troop No. 89 that is organized in the Training School. Two hours of P. E. credit will be given to the members of the class. No Boy Scout experience will be necessary, but it will be very helpful. Those who complete the course will receive credit in their leadership advancement program from the local council.
The course will be offered at the eighth hour on Tuesday and Wednesday. Your advisor will have complete information, when you see him at the pre-registration period. The course is open to Juniors and seniors only and will be limited to the number that can be accommodated.
For further information see any member of the Men's Physical Education Department or Mr. Welch.

JUNIOR-SENIOR TEAM WON OVER SOPHOMORES BY NARROW MARGIN IN FINAL SCORE

29-30 (See Sport Candids)

SPORT CANDIDS

With Malice Toward None
The sophomore basketball team took a jumbled beating at the hands of the senior college sextette. Although there was only a margin of "won" point between them, there is a hard-to-face rumor that the "uppers" were better grinders than the "downers." There are several reasons for the drooping about of this team, and the best of these is thought to be the fact that the senior college forwards worked together, no one basketball taking all the shots, but each taking his shot when there was an opening for him. In other words, there seemed to be better cooperation. The most famous of coaches would surely have to agree that the playing is divided, where there is a three man team rather than a one.

Not as Mercenary As It May Seem
The teams yesterday evening took a senior college-sports game took the advice of Missy Mercer—"Don't Take a Chance, Fall on the Ball!"—and sprawled in the four directions according to how the ball fell. Ripley or not, however, the game wasn't going comparatively speaking. The falling gradually took the form of diving, and there are "humors" out that the next thing to be taken up will be flying, and all that goes with it. An encouraging note, however, for the wingspread of some of the guards is tremendous.

A huge banner for Mitzel Mercer Juniors who kicked the hoop with a basketball six times from the activity floor, and four times from the passive free throw board. By the way, those free-throwing skills were very good indeed.

Katie Salomo, senior, secured eight points for her team, with an additional two points in free-play.
Kitty Osburne, junior, newly-bred player on S. I. N. U. floors, did herself in glory with five good shots from her hands.

Katie Salomo, part of the defeated faction, proved her worth as a guard when she stuck to Mercer like molasses, holding her to the three baskets.
Fifteen raves for Mrs. Murrey and Miss Davis for officiating at the game.

Little Things That Count:
Like, ten persons and three techniques on the senior college, Sophomores getting six points, thereof.
Like, eleven persons on the sophomores, senior-colleagues making six of them add up to the score-book.
Radio: six-tenths to six eleven!
Names That Helped Win or Lose
Are those of Ellen Clements, Emeline Sutton, Mary Van Blower, Nancy Cooper, John Brooks, all of the upper classmen team.
And those of Heady Gattlin, Penny Kuntz, Dorothy Klose, Evelyn Hamilton, Audrey Somer, Elizabeth Van Trump, and West, Westwood, all of the sophomore team.

Parrish to Address Zeta Sigma Pi and Kappa Delta Pi

John D. Parrish of the economics department will discuss the industrial potentialities of Southern Illinois at a joint meeting of the Zeta Sigma Pi and the Kappa Delta Pi fraternities in room 102 Main building Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Basketball Captains

Have been chosen in all the freshmen activity classes: Elouise Crain, Ruth Fowler, Lucrilia Crain and DeJores Melnicoff are captains of the fourth hour. Betty Benright, Berta Brachner, Ruth Peterson and Mary Ellen Rensing lead the fifth hour teams. In the sixth hour Margie Bodie, Anna Easterly, Jo Lipe and Eva Phillips were chosen. Helen Darszkiewicz, Janette Probst, Pauline Sherfield and Alberts Simms are asking for cooperation in the seventh hour class and Ann Abernathy and "Mouse" Rutz have taken over in the eighth hour.

The Final Stages

Of the table tennis tournament has been reached, Opal Wilson-Norms Phifer and Myrtle Brown-Emily Johnson tied the Round Robin. Wilson and Phifer came out on top and are now facing Lillian Finks and Ruth Price. Price won the Double Round Robin for the advanced class. In the Progressive Bridge game Vern Halfacre and Marjorie Lingie have lost two of the games played in the second hour class. These games are to be played off and we shall then have the complete report.

Y. M. C. A. CONVERTS TEN ROOM HOUSE INTO COOPERATIVE

The Y. M. C. A. of S. I. N. U. has purchased from the Carbondale Building and Loan Association a building which will be made into a cooperative house. The ten room house, located on Grand avenue in front of the site of the new training school, will house twenty boys at a cost of four dollars per week for each boy.
The basement of the house will be made into a kitchen where the meals for the boys in the house will be prepared.
The Y. M. C. A. plans to have the house ready for use at the beginning of the spring term. In selecting boys to live at this house preference will be given to those who work on the campus. Membership will not be limited to the present members of the Y. M. C. A., but all boys who enter must become members after entering in order to remain eligible.
The Y. M. C. A. also plans to form a cooperative, but as yet has not purchased a building.

SOCIOLOGY DEPARTMENT TO OFFER TWO NEW COURSES DURING SPRING

The Sociology Department will offer two new courses for the spring quarter. Juvenile Delinquency, Sociology 301, will deal with the causes and interrelation of physical, mental and social factors in delinquency. Preventive programs and proposed solutions will be critically reviewed. Dr. Judson T. Laundis is the instructor. Social Control, Sociology 302, besides a study of sociology by which the individual is made responsible, the course is an analysis of the following means of control: Rewards, Education, ceremony, Ritual, Codes, Tradition, Superstition, Fashion, Taboos, Laughter, Ridicule, Public Opinion, Propaganda, and Law. An effort will be made to show how these controls operate in contemporary society. Mr. Edward E. McDonough is the instructor.

DEBATERS IN TOP SIXTEEN AT CONWAY Compete Against More Than Hundred

S. I. N. U. debate teams, in their fifth tournament of this season, placed in the upper sixteen of more than one hundred teams entered in the Mid-South tournament at Conway, Ark., last week-end.

Carbondale's contestants, Mary Heinzman, Isabelle Marshall, Ellen Howard, and Ann Bell, won all their debates on Friday, and placed in the seventh round on Saturday. Both teams debated both the affirmative and the negative of the official college debate question, "Resolved, that the nation of the western hemisphere should form a permanent league."

Dr. Orville Alexander, coach of the debate squad, recently received the first tangible evidence of winning in a tournament, a certificate of "Award of Proficiency in Debating" from the Illinois State Normal tournament in January, in which S. I. N. U. placed second.
This week's schedule includes a contest with Memphis, Tenn. State Teachers' College, at the college assembly exercise Thursday morning, and two others at 4:00 and 7:30 p. m. The Friday, Feb. 15, Junior College and S. I. N. U. team are to debate before the Carbondale Lions' club Friday at 4 p. m.

University High Gets Pat on Back

A report on the University High school was received recently by its principal, Mr. Hal Hall. This report came to the campus high school in the form of a letter from Mr. F. G. Hood, assistant high school visitor from the University of Illinois, who made a visitation to University High school on January 21. Mr. Hood was especially impressed with the instruction and spirit of the school, saying "You have a superior group of teachers who are working diligently to make instruction in the University High school a model for the schools of Illinois. The school spirit is exemplary."
While here, Mr. Hood examined the blue prints for the new training school, and found the building well planned for teacher training, experimental and observational studies. The report rated preparation of teachers good, with teacher load, pupil load, educational program and school records all satisfactory.
In commenting on administration and supervision, Mr. Hood said "You should be able to get the greatest service to southern Illinois by furnishing effective leadership in dealing with the never ending problem of improving instruction."
He felt that one of the major problems which the school faces is that of building up a model library to be used for observational purposes for the schools of southern Illinois.

SINU ALUMNI MAKE GOOD AT UNIV. OF ILL.

Fred Basolo, '40, chemistry major, who had a one third assistantship at the University of Illinois earlier this year, now has received a half time assistantship in the chemistry department.
Curtis W. Smith, '40, has also received a chemistry assistantship at the University of Illinois. (Hoggar Adams, head of the chemistry department, has chosen him to be his research director to check the organic chemical preparations which he is using in the new book he is writing.)

Allyn Training School Notes

Allyn Training School activity groups under the sponsorship of various members of the faculty have planned a very novel program with the view of instilling more cooperation and activity interest among elementary age children.

Friday, February 7, Miss Establin's Hobby Club composed of children in the second to sixth grades held a world-wide collections display. This display which was very unique rendered was supervised by organized children representing almost all the countries of the world. Items of interest were obtained either from the homes of the children or from the local gift shops. Children from all the surrounding elementary schools were invited to view the various exhibits.

Another very novel plan is that in which the dreams of the would-be gardeners of Allyn will be fulfilled. The Garden club under the direction of Mr. Marberry will undertake an actual cultivation of land which is to be obtained on the site of the new Training School. If original plans are to be carried out each prospective gardener will have his own individual plot of ground to cultivate.

Also, other organizations such as the Pottery Club, which is sponsored by Mrs. Foutz, the Dramatic Club under the auspices of Miss Scott, and Miss Van Trump's 4-H group have been doing their part to make elementary school activities more interesting for the average child.

The various clubs of the Training School meet regularly at the fifth hour on Fridays. The following clubs have been organized: Hobby, sponsor Miss Establin; pottery, Mrs. Foutz; club, Mrs. Rogers; 4-H club, Miss Van Trump; dramatic, Miss Scott. Each of the clubs has done some excellent work and the interest appears to be growing.

Mr. Olson of the Industrial Arts department is taking a great number of pictures showing various phases of activities connected with the regular work of the school.

Mothers' Teas are common now and will continue to be until the end of the term. The pupils do the serving and introducing of the visitors. A few dads attend also and the children are especially proud when they do come. Room teas are very pleasant affairs.

CORRECTION

Last week the EGYPTIAN carried an announcement which referred to the "newly organized Bureau of Child Guidance." This article was an unfortunate mistake, inasmuch as the Bureau was organized on this campus in 1936 by Dr. W. A. Thalman, who is still its director and who is on leave of absence this year. The article in the EGYPTIAN was published without consulting either the director or the present acting director, and the latter has asked that this correction be printed in order to clear up any misconceptions that have arisen.

CHEMISTRY MANUAL BY S. I. N. U. INSTRUCTORS NOW ADOPTED IN THIRTY-ONE U. S. COLLEGES

The chemistry laboratory manual, "Experimental General Chemistry," written by J. W. Neekers, T. W. Abbott and K. A. Van Lente, published in July, 1940, has already been widely adopted by colleges and universities all over the United States. There are thirty-one schools using the manual at the present time and the number promises to increase with the coming year. Such educational institutions as Albion College, Arizona State, Teachers College, Peabody, Florida, N. C. I. Institute, James Millikin University, Nazareth College in Kentucky, St. Mary's College, Kansas, West Virginia State College and the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute have adopted this manual.

This manual is designed, especially for two-hour laboratory periods. Some of the distinctive features of the manual are the preliminary exercises to be filled out and handed in before the laboratory period. Also at each strategic point in an experiment an "O. C." or "Check" is required, as indicated. This manual contains 31 experiments and the first edition is based on six years use in preliminary editions.

Comments on the manual were as follows: A very fine manual. Good laboratory manual. A lot of instructors' time usually devoted to setting up—B. F. Clark, Birmingham-Southern College.

This book contains a good selection of experiments and well adapted for a laboratory course in general chemistry. I like the form of the Final flight tests were completed last Monday on the Fall Session of the Civil Pilot Training program, being conducted by Southern Illinois Normal University in conjunction with Valerius Air Service, flight instructor.

This fall session class was composed of twenty aviation students and ten secondary. Graduation from the primary course makes a trainee eligible for the secondary course, and upon successful completion of the secondary a trainee is eligible for a Student Instructor course. All of these courses are given at practically no cost to the student.

Fifteen students of the primary course, Jim Blava, Denver Carter, Frank Winter, Edwin Becht, Raymond Ellis, Calvin Johnson, Clark Largent, Francis Olson, Dick Cagle, Harry Spear, James Mitchell, Ralph Shaffer, Ned Ward, and Carl Rhodes, have successfully completed final flight tests, both written and practical.

Right of the secondary students, Herbert Barker, Richard McCullough, William McDougal, J. Russell Mitchell, William Spiller, J. Harley Wilkins, Hubert Richard, and Carl Pauls have completed their course.

The completion of the fall session makes a total of fifty students who have entered the CPTP courses since their inauguration at the S. I. N. U. approximately one year ago. Seventy students have successfully completed all tests and received their respective ratings issued by the Civil-Aeronautics Administration. Among the causes of failure of the other ten to complete "work" included: entering Army and Navy Air Corps, and physical deficiencies.

Approximately three thousand hours of flying has been accomplished in training these eighty students with scarcely a mishap. The national program has been conducted with a safety record which has been a revelation to the entire industry. This has been accomplished by the most careful supervision of the entire personnel involved.

The standard is constantly being raised on this program, causing the officials in charge of ground and flight school no small amount of concern in meeting them. So far they have been able to meet them by their own efforts, but no doubt in the near future much help must be had from outside if all their requirements are to be met.

At present applications are being received at the college to fill a Spring session quota of thirty primary (trainee) and ten secondary. It is not necessary to know the details of these courses available to persons not regularly enrolled at the college. Anyone having

STUDENT CHRISTIAN COUNCIL WILL BRING SMUCKER HERE

An outstanding speaker in the conference on Peace and War to be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 26, 27, 28, will be Don Smucker, national secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

Mr. Smucker, a member of the Minnesota church, has been an active youth leader in recent years. He has traveled widely both in Europe and America; he has studied in Princeton and Yale University.

He has worked for the American Friends Service committee and since 1938 has been a member of the staff of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, first as youth secretary and for the last year as executive secretary of the midwest branch. The F. R. C.

SENIORS ELECT DWIGHT GREEN FOR SPEAKER

There will be a senior class meeting on Thursday, February 26, during chapel hour in the Little Theater. In the event that Governor Dwight Green, who was elected to be commencement speaker this year, cannot accept, the class will choose one of the following men who have been suggested: Dr. Percival Bailey, head of the department of neurology, U. of Ill.; Dr. Claude R. Vick, assistant in the state department of public instruction; Dr. Charles Stanton, president of Minnesota State Teachers' College, Bemis, Minn.; Dr. Dallas Plummer, noted surgeon, and Mr. Carl Sandburg, poet and biographer.

After the election, the seniors will decide how the funds for a memorial project are to be raised. Suggestions have been made that members of the class should dress themselves for this purpose. This matter will be voted on Thursday; seniors who do not favor the plan will have their last opportunity to voice their disapproval.

Meeting Next Week to Discuss Funds For Memorial

A course entitled "School Law" will be offered next term for the first time on the S. I. N. U. campus. It is listed on the spring term schedule as both Education 323 and Government 323. Joint instructors, both of whom will be present at each class session, are Dr. Douglas E. Lawson and Dr. Orville Alexander.

The course will deal with the organization and control of public schools, finance, legal and contractual authority of boards of education, employment of teachers, pensions and minimum wages, as well as other legal aspects of the school situation. Special emphasis will be given to Illinois school laws.

The textbook to be used is "The Courts and the Public Schools" by Newton Edwards, Department of Education, University of Chicago. As supplementary work, special books and bulletins on Illinois school law will be used.

NEARLY TWO-THIRDS COLLEGE STUDENTS EXPECT TO MARRY IN 3 YEARS AFTER GRADUATION

By Student Opinion Surveys
"What does the future hold for me?" That is one question that many a college youth, faced with an upset world, is asking himself today. Is the college giving thought to the time when he leaves the campus, how soon would he like to be married, what is his life work to be?

Because of the uncertainty brought by the war, these are questions of importance especially to those young in the threshold of adult life. To discover what students of the nation are thinking about their future, Student Opinion Surveys of America has held interviews over a cross section of colleges and universities. The results:

- 1. Nearly two-thirds of the men and women now in college hope to be married within three years after they leave school.
- 2. Many college women—about four out of every ten want to teach, at least for a short while.
- 3. Almost half of the men are planning to do engineering work, to teach, or to go into private business.

Comparatively little pessimism was manifested upon the campuses over the country. Practically all students are proceeding with their preparations for a normal life. But this is not to say that college men are not aware of the changes going on about them. Other surveys have pointed out that students are keenly interested in the European troubles, and in keeping this nation out of them.

National defense, however, has had its effect. Some 2 per cent of the men say that they want to go into aviation. Projected against such meager figures, that would mean that colleges today contain some 20,000 air-minded young people. Other of the most popular professions among men are journalism, law, medicine, chemistry, accountancy, and salesmanship. Among women, selected as the ten top choices were: marriage, journalism, secretarial work, nursing, social service, drama, fashion designing, business, and dietetics.

Musical Life Ten France.

One of the first French musicians to be allowed to leave his country since the surrender to Germany in 1940, Francisca, violinist, who has appeared with several leading symphony orchestras of the United States recently. His task of getting here was anything but easy. His first problem was to obtain French, American and Spanish visas. This task was completed.

The next difficulty arose at the Spanish border, where he was refused admission because he was told that no men under 49, except American citizens, were permitted to cross Spain to reach Lisbon. He remained at the French frontier station for ten days, pulling every string he could by means of telegrams and telephone calls.

"As added trouble," he wrote his manager, "a terrible catastrophe descended on the country, floods, tidal waves, etc. All of French Roussillon and Spanish Catalonia were devastated. All the railway bridges were destroyed in France as well as in Spain. We were completely isolated for four days."

When communications were finally reestablished, he and his wife decided to turn back. And just at that point permission to cross Spain was granted.

The violinist who left Paris a few days before the German occupation and never returned, said that the dispersal of artists, the separation of families, and the acute difficulties of food and housing made concerts in France rare, but that those which were given were packed because the harassed populace is eager for the consolation of music.

Grace Notes:
Anton, Dvorak's "Symphony," now in its fifteenth season, has lost several of its members due to the draft.

The Roth String Quartet has been engaged to provide music for Alexander Korda's new film "New Wife," which is based on the life of Franz Schubert.

What Do You Know About Little Egypt?

BURKSVILLE CAVE

By BILL REYNOLDS
"Where Alpha, the sacred river ran, through caverns measureless to man." Here in Southern Illinois, three miles southwest of the village of Burksville, lies a cave, to which these words could well apply. On the farm of John Morrison, locally known as "Colonel" John Morrison, is the entrance to this cave. Its exterior is not pretentious; being only a four by six hole, which leads slightly downward for about thirty feet. At the bottom of this hole, the cave begins. There are two main branches, one to the southwest, and one to the northeast. There are numerous offshoots to these two main branches, most of which, however, soon divide away.

The cave was formed by an underground stream, whose source and destination are both unknown. The source of the stream is probably far beneath an overhanging ledge which is so low as to make access to it impossible. The stream runs the entire length of the cave until it vanishes into a whirlpool at the extreme southwest end.

A barrel of red dye was poured into the stream in order to determine whether it ever emerged from the ground, and if so, where? Reddish colored water is reported to have come out of a spring near Prairie du Rocher. However, this report has not been substantiated.

The entrance to the cave is on private property, and is not now open to the public; although at one time, it was a popular resort. There was even once a dance floor in the cave, and a trainway leading from it to St. Louis.

The cave is an example of karst topography, which means, I am told, that the cave is an interesting limestone formation. Its height varies from fifteen to twenty feet, and it is about twelve miles in length. It has never been fully explored.

The cave has several rooms which equal anything that Mammoth has to offer. The place has many stalactites and stalagmites, and many curious formations of them. Some stone steps carved in one section of the cave have tiny knob-like projections on them, which are the beginnings of stalactites. Another interesting one found elsewhere in the cave. In some of the rooms, glistening white columns formed from the union of a stalagmite and stalactite, rise to the ceiling.

This cave is one of the most interesting natural phenomena in our Southern Illinois area and has never received the attention that is due to it.

Faculty Publications

In the last issue of the Peabody Journal of Education there is an article entitled, "The Rural in Service Extension Program at Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale," by Mr. Emerson Hall and Mr. George Bracewell of the rural education department.

Mr. Douglas Lawson has an article in the February issue of Hygeia entitled, "A Code for Teachers—a Code for Parents." This is Mr. Lawson's second appearance in Hygeia.

Dr. Thomas Barton has an article, "An Urban-Rural Ecotone: as Exemplified by Hastings, Nebraska," published in the "Illinois State Academy of Science." All members read at the thirty-third annual meeting of the Illinois State Academy of Science held in May last year were published in the Illinois State Academy of Science, which is published in December of each year. There is another article, "High School Geography in Southern Illinois," published, which was written by Dr. and Mrs. Barton.

Smokers know...
Chesterfields Satisfy

WITH THEIR Milder, Better Taste

Do you know why Chesterfield gives you more pleasure?
Because it's the smoker's cigarette
... it has everything a smoker wants... Real Mildness and a Cooler, Better Taste.

Chesterfields are better-tasting and mild... not flat... not strong, because of their right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Valentine's Greetings from ELLEN DREW, sister in the current famous hit "THE MAD DOCTOR," and from CHESTERFIELD, the Milder, Cooler, Better-Tasting cigarette.

Do you smoke the cigarette that Satisfies
... it's the smoker's cigarette

DEAR CUPID:
She's wonderful... and eyes are blue, and she's just the right size—what should I give her for Valentine's Day? I've thought and thought and I can't make up my mind. Please help me.

yours,
ANXIOUS.

DEAR ANXIOUS:
Your description is weak, but your intentions are plain. I suggest that you go down to Varsity Drugs to get the gift for her. You'll find that making your mind up is easy when there are so many things from which to choose. You can't go wrong there, either on the gift or on the price—which is probably a good thing for one in your starry-eyed condition. Better hurry down there now—you'll be sure to please her!

for Valentine's, it's
